COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES, SUNDAY

Academic Procession to Follow Pontifical High Mass by Bishop

Twenty-five new names will be added to the growing roster of St. Joseph's College graduates, Sunday, June 6, when the 57th annual commencement exercises will be held here. The Most Rev. John G. Bennett, D.D., Bishop of Lafayette, will be celebrant of a Pontifical High Mass at ten o'clock in the morning. The college faculty and graduates in academic dress will march in procession from the Administration Building to the chapel for the Mass. Present in the sanctuary will be the Most Rev. Clement Geiger, C.P.P.S., D.D., Prelate Nullius of the Xingu, Brazil, who was raised to the episcopal dignity in St. Monica's Cathedral, Cincinnati, on May 19. Bishop Geiger is a member of the Society of the Precious Blood (Teutonic Province) and has been a missionary in Brazil for the past 15 years.

Graduation exercises will be held at two o'clock in the College Theatre. The Rev. Walter Pax, Dean of the College, will present the diplomas, and Mr. Henry Contant, president of St. Joseph's College Alumni Association, will deliver the commencement address. Mr. John McKenna, president of the graduation class, is Class Valedictorian.

MOST REV. CLEMENT GEIGER

Choristers Please Theatre Throng; Present Minstrels

The St. Joseph's Glee Club delighted a near capacity audience in the College Theatre, Monday evening, May 24, when it presented an old-fashioned Minstrel Show, featuring two acts of comedy and song.

Six members of the Club were made up in the traditional "burnt cork" style as end-men, with Don Horst acting as interlocutor and master of ceremonies. The four "Overtones" sang several numbers in close harmony and received the generous applause which has greeted all their previous appearances on the campus. The Glee Club ensemble entertained with Swanee, Dry Bones and Old Man River.

The whole show under the direction of Mr. Daniel Connor, assistant music instructor, was received with such enthusiasm that already plans are being discussed for a "bigger and better" Minstrel next year.

Lucas Elected MC President

The results of the election of officers of the Monogram Club for 1948-'49 were announced Tuesday, May 18, at the club's annual banquet, which was held at the Sportsman restaurant near Monticello. John Lucas, Gary junior, was elected president; Tom Tysall, Hammond sophomore, secretary; and Bill Ciminelli, Rochester, N.Y. junior, treasurer.

Four new members were inducted. They are Tom Hoffman, Paul Bauman, Harvey Schneider, and Jack Rice. After the sixty-five members and guests present had finished their steak dinner, Father Rueve showed movies of last fall's Puma-St. Norbert football game. Football coach Dick Scharf acted as narrator.

Following the movies, the membership awards were made and the election results announced by the graduating president, Jim Buckley. Buckley then called upon Father Kaiser, chairman of the athletic board, and Father Roof, athletic director, to speak. Then on the behalf of the other graduating members, Buckley called upon the club to keep up its spirit of cooperation and its exemplary record.

Summer Session Begins June 28

Between 75 and 100 students are expected to enroll for the Summer Session at St. Joseph's, the Rev. Cletus Kern, registrar, stated on Friday. He said this is merely a guess, and that accurate figures would not be available until later. Included in this estimate is an undetermined number of Sisters who will be in attendance at St. Joseph's for the first time in the history of the school.

Actually two separate sessions will be held: a regular session here on the campus, and a special session at Indiana Dunes State Park for advanced students in Physical Education. Registration for the regular session will take place on Saturday and Sunday, June 26 and 27. Classes will begin on June 28 and conclude with final examinations on August 6. For the special session at Camp Elk, Dunes State Park, registration will be held and classes begun on June 26, with final examinations on July 24. Mr. James Puett, instructor in Physical Education and assistant football coach, will be in charge.

The curriculum offered at the regular session will consist of 32 courses in 13 departments. There will be three class periods of one hour and fifteen minutes each, Monday through Saturday, for the six weeks. All classes will be held in the morning, from 7:45 to 9:00; from 9:15 to 10:30; and from 10:45 to 12:00 noon.

The Rev. Henry J. Martin is director of the Summer Session, and has announced that four visiting instructors have been engaged for the session. They are: Sister St. Elizabeth of Jesus, M.A., M.Ed., of the Sisters of Notre Dame, Sister M. Hermina, M.A., a sister of the Precious Blood, both of whom will teach courses in Education; the Rev. Edward F. Siegman, C.P.P.S., S.T.D., professor of Sacred Scripture, and the Rev. Paul J. Knapke, C.P.P.S., S.T.D., professor of Church History.

Holy Name Members Rally in Collegeville

A rally for members of the Holy Name Society of the Lafayette deanery will be here on the campus, Sunday, June 20. The day's activities have not as yet been definitely determined, but it has been announced that a Pontifical High Mass, celebrated by the Most Rev. John G. Bennett, Bishop of Lafayette, will be included.

Thibault Delights College Audience In Auditorium

The 1947-'48 Speckbaugh Memorial Theatre Series came to a conclusion, Wednesday evening, May 19, when Conrad Thibault, renowned American baritone of the Metropolitan and concert stage, sang before a large crowd of music lovers of the Collegeville area.

Personable Mr. Thibault delighted his audience with a varied program. Most popular of his offerings were the Toreador Song from "Carmen," Oh, What a Beautiful Morning from "Oklahoma," Gypsy Love Song from "The Fortune-Teller," The Lord's Prayer and The Glory Road.

Bayou Ballads of Louisiana, Mountain Folk Songs and Sea Chanteys were sung by Mr. Thibault with a beauty rarely heard from the stage of the College Theatre.

The Rev. Christian Staab, C.P.P.S., associate professor of mathematics and physics, rejoices with his mother, Mrs. Mary Staab of Parma, Ohio, during the campus celebration marking the 25th anniversary of his ordination.

James E. Miller Wins Alumni Essay Contest

First and second prizes in the Alumni Essay Contest, open to all college students on the campus, went to sophomore James E. Miller, of Gettysburg, Pa., and a resident of Xavier Hall. Writing under a pen name, Miller's "Education without Religion is a Dangerous Thing" won first honors. His "Maryland, My Maryland" was given second place by the judges. First prize is $25.00; the second, $15.00. They will be presented to the winner during the commencement exercises, June 6th.

Four Groups Hold Summer Retreats Here During June

Four retreats will be held on the campus during the month of June. The first, June 7-11, will be attended by the clergy of the diocese of Lafayette; the second June 11-13, a week-end spiritual exercise for Alcoholics Anonymous, will be under the direction of the Rev. Ralph Pfau of Indianapolis.

Also arriving on June 11 for a ten-day spiritual retreat will be the Christian Brothers of Ireland, who conduct Leo High School in Chicago. The exercises will be preached by the Rev. Joseph Raible, C.P.P.S., of Cleveland. Beginning on June 21 and closing on June 25, the priests of the Society of the Precious Blood will make a retreat under the direction of the Rev. Pascal Barry, a Passionist missionary of St. Francis Retreat, St. Paul, Kansas.

4 Faculty Members to Do Graduate Work

Four members of St. Joseph's faculty will leave the campus during the summer to continue their graduate work. They are the Revs. James Birkley, Charles Rueve, Joseph Scheuer, and Robert Siebeneck. Father Scheuer will attend the University of Michigan, while the other three will probably continue work begun at Ohio State University, last summer.

The Rev. Alfred Zanolar, mathematics instructor, has been engaged by the Sisters of St. Agnes to teach in the Summer Session at Marian College, Fond du Lac, Wis., and the Rev. Boniface Dreiling, physics instructor, will assist the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Maurice Chawke in parochial work at St. Michael's, Flint, Mich.

GRADUATION 1948

Come next Sunday, 25 seniors will end their student days on the campus of St. Joseph's when they receive their diplomas on the stage of the college auditorium. This day will climax four years of hard work for the 25; four years spent in preparing for classes, writing various papers, studying for exams, and struggling over a thesis. All the trials and tribulations which they underwent, however, will be forgotten amid the joys of the occasion.

When the Class of 1948 leaves Collegeville for the last time as students, they will enter a world filled with bitterness, hatred, and prejudice. They will have to work and work hard to make a place for themselves. Although probably none of them will strive to gain world-wide renown, all of them should strive to be good Catholic laymen.

Now, more than ever before, Catholic educated men are needed in all professions to uphold Christian principles and ideals in the face of strong pagan influence. In their tenure in Collegeville, the graduates have been well instructed and should be prepared to face the problems which the world holds for them.

Thus St. Joseph's bids bon voyage to the Class of 48, wishes them well, and hopes that their alma mater will be justified in calling them Catholic leaders of tomorrow.

Set the World On Fire

How often have you not said: "I don't want to set the world on fire?" Let's hope you don't, but in a sense you must. Has it ever occurred to you that as a Catholic you have the sacred trust and obligation of spreading Christ's message among those of your individual world who have not yet accepted Him? In other words, you have a duty to set the world on fire by applying the Torch of the True Faith in places where its warmth is not known. Sounds like a big order, but it need not be.

There was a time in our country's history when our Faith was under persecution, when Catholics were a small minority and had to defend, explain and even conceal their belief. Catholics were held up to ridicule and malicious accusations, and as a result we often had "chip on the shoulder Catholics" or apologetic Catholics. But as our country grew, so the Church advanced to the extent that we are no longer a weak minority, but a sixth of the national population.

The question then is, why the defense? Why conceal? The apologizing Catholic of today can be said to have "missed the boat," for his Faith needs no apology; it needs only to be spread. Take for example our expression, "Keep the Faith," and don't we do just that to the letter. We keep it to ourselves. In a world starved for the satiation and happiness that Truth can give, we, not meaning it that way, of course, bid each other, "Keep the Faith," and it would seem we slavishly carry its command into our actions.

Today there are many who have seen the artificialities of our so-called progress, and have begun to seek something more solid. Some, who before were not so sure there is a God, now frantically search for Him. Others long for the confidence, and comfort, and freedom of the Truth, for they have wearied of the contradiction of error. In other words, thousands are today looking for the very things that we take for granted, but fail to give them. We actually have the Faith, the teachings of Christ Himself, as can be shown from history, from reason, and from Holy Scripture. The Catholic Religion is not only the pathway to lead men to God and eternal happiness, but it is also the source of happiness, joy, comfort and freedom in this life. Our Blessed Lord has said: "You shall know the Truth, and the Truth shall make you free."

In view of such a longing, how can we explain the actions of so many Catholics? Too many call themselves "practicing" Catholics, whereas they are really "practical" Catholics. They are Catholics as long as that profession of Faith is profitable and useful, but they invariably shift in whatever direction the current is running, as suits their purpose. This isn't the type of Catholicism that spreads the Faith; it isn't even Catholicism.

The only possible way we can hope to bring the beauty, the comfort and consolation of our Religion to others and convince them that it is the answer to their search, is to live our own lives as the Church directs. We don't have to shout from soap-boxes. We don't need high-pressure salesmanship. A good product sells itself, and what is more desirable than the true Religion? We don't have to take the offensive. All we need do to spread the Faith is to uncover it, to bring it before men in all its beauty. And how can we do this? How can we, individually and collectively, expect to set the world on fire? How do we become "practicing" Catholics, not "practical" Catholics?

First we must convince ourselves that living a truly Catholic life is a twenty-four hour task, difficult only in so far as all things worthwhile in life are difficult. We must convince ourselves of its beauty, its power, its value. For if we are not sold on it, how can we hope to interest others in our Faith? If we are not familiar with the teachings and practices of our Religion, we can't very well live it. Therefore, we should strive more and more to learn about it, especially while we have the opportunities afforded by a Catholic college. Lastly, having learned our Religion, and having learned to love it, we must teach it as we practice it. This doesn't mean mere presence at devotions and at the Sacrifice of the Mass, but active participation in these and recourse to the Sacraments. These will give us the grace and the strength to live as followers of Christ every minute of the day, and if we live in this manner, we cannot help but arouse the interest and attention of those looking for what we have—the road to peace and happiness eternal.

Gag Busters...

Prom Echoes:

Can Smokey Malone explain why Father Stan has to examine all his outgoing mail? It seems Smokey's prom doings are worth writing about. John Lucas seemed to be having a tough time at the prom. He kept thinking of that popular song: "June is busting out all over."

According to Candy, Ray Patterson's cute trick, our hardcourt star has another talent unknown to the campus. He had never told us that he led his high school choir to musical success. Incidentally, why does Candy call him "Nature Boy?"

Margy and Bill Krodell seem to be at that stage. The only time Bill stirred from his complacency was when the eats showed up.

We wonder how Bill (Rapper) Lynch would rate the program, "A Date with Judy." After watching him at the prom, we'd say this rating would be "highly acceptable." Are we right, Bill?

According to "the Hook," Tony Phillips was securely hog-tied over the prom weekend. Now we have two "Hooks" in West Seifert.

Last seen, Chuck Hanley was walking five miles in the stratosphere toward northern Minnesota. He claims it's pretty warm up there.

Jim Beane was dancing with his dream; Buckley and Terveer were not crying in anyone's beer; Joe McGrath has "the Peach" to pilot his raft; Weibel and Kay were satisfied with their stay; Art O'Malley's date, pretty Miss Healy, kept Art out late; Skip Brennan had The Judge at the dance; Guckien led the school song; Bob Morrow told his girl about the Cubs; Ciminelli lost his vociferousness after the first hour, his memory the second, and his equilibrium the third; Burton was found, late at night, "squeezing them off" in the Rec. Hall.

Thanks to all who took their ribbing in this column for the past year in good spirit. To those who didn't particularly enjoy seeing their name in print we say, we'll try to give you more prominence next year. Undoubtedly we have had more laughs writing Gag Busters than you have had reading it. So, until Gag Busters in '48-'49—Scoop & Fingers

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Many Veterans of World War II took out life insurance for the first time while they were in the armed services. Up to January 1, 1947, over 16 million members of the armed services applied for and were granted more than 149 billion dollars of protection, averaging $9,200 each.

Immediately after discharge each veteran faces this question: "What shall I do with my Government life insurance?" Linked directly with it is another question: "How much life insurance protection can I afford under peacetime conditions?" Only the veteran himself can answer those two questions.

Veterans have the privilege of retaining the protection afforded by NSLI after discharge, no matter what the state of their health may be, provided they make timely payment of the required premiums.

The millions of veterans of World War II have an unusual opportunity to safeguard the financial future of themselves and their dependents through NSLI, which is administered and guaranteed by the United States Government which pays all operating expenses through separate appropriations. Every dollar of premiums collected is held in trust and invested at interest for eventual return as benefits to policyholders and their beneficiaries.

Since the amount and plan of NSLI to be carried depend largely upon the financial circumstances and family status of the individual, it is believed that veterans would do well to become fully informed in regard to the subject.

Veterans attending colleges and universities under the G-I Bill must obtain supplemental certificates of eligibility from Veterans Administration if they plan to enroll in a new school this summer or next fall.

The certificates should be requested from the VA regional office at least 30 days before the date the term opens at the new school. Advance requests will help speed prompt payments of subsistence allowances after the start of the new term.

Supplemental certificates to the original certificates of eligibility issued by VA are necessary only when a veteran changes from one school or training establishment to another.

Veterans who will attend a different school this summer from the one in which they are now enrolled should apply immediately for their new certificates. If they will not enter the new school until the fall term, they may wait until later on this summer.

Those veterans changing schools for the summer term and planning to return to their present institution next fall will need a second supplemental certificate to enable them to re-enter their present school at that time.

The veteran's full name, correct address, VA claim number and present training establishment should be included in any request for new certificates.

For complete information regarding veterans' benefits get in touch with the Veterans Administration Office, Purdue University, 545 Northwestern Avenue, West Lafayette, Indiana.

What Do You Think?

Here Are Views of a Few

The 1947-48 school year is nearly complete. For some the finish means graduation and a degree, while for others it means one more year on the road to a degree. Many fine courses were offered during the past year. Some, however, were more profitable than others. Many of the students considered the various subjects merely as additional credit hours, while others tried to derive some special benefit from the courses. To find out some of the courses which were particularly appreciated by the students, a representative group was asked this question, "From which of the courses you have taken this year have you derived the most benefit?"

Gerald Shine, Glenwood, Ill. junior, said, "Since I hope to attend law school after my graduation from St. Joseph's, I believe my course in Business Law has been the most beneficial to me."

A second vote for Mr. Dumas' Business Law was cast by Frank Blanford, a sophomore from Louisville, Ky. "I consider this course particularly beneficial, because it demonstrates how to cope with the ordinary legal problems a man has to face in the business world today," said Blanford.

"Of the courses I took this semester I found Religion 30 to be the most profitable," declared Louisville, Ky. junior, Terry Adams. "The course gives us the answers to many of the life problems which we will have to face upon completion of school," added Adams.

Canton, O. junior Ken Platt, stated, "The courses I have taken this year have been mainly cultural, ordered to the better understanding of the problems with which I have come face to face in four years of army service. On the whole Religion 30 was probably the most practical of any of my courses, but I wouldn't have missed any of them," finished the British-born junior.

Attending a Catholic school for the first time, Ray Biller, Saugatuck, Mich., freshman appreciates and most his religion course. Said Biller, "I have learned much about my faith which I didn't know because of my lack of previous religious training."

Walter Casey of Cleveland, O., a sophomore, gave the nod to Logic. Casey thinks that Logic has aided him in his reasoning and thinking and has enabled him to see through some of the statements made by "so called intellectuals."

Junior Bill Jackson of Portsmouth, Ohio believes his course in Business Organization and Management has been particularly enlightening. "Although I do not intend to become a business man myself, the course gave me an understanding of the business world which has been miserably lacking," stated Jackson.

Victor Toeppe Elected Head Of NFCCS

Regional officers of the National Federation of Catholic College students were chosen at a meeting held at St. Mary's College, Holy Cross, Ind., Sunday, May 23. Five students of St. Joseph's represented the College.

Elected president to succeed Miss Mary Bishop was Victor Toeppe, local freshman and until now senior delegate from St. Joseph's. Other officers chosen were: Miss Yvonne Boudreau, Nazareth College, Michigan, vice president; Miss Mary Ann Felinger, St. Mary's College, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Louise Muldoon, St. Francis College, Ft. Wayne, recording secretary. These officers will direct the activities of the Ft. Wayne Region for the 1948-49 scholastic year.

Toeppe will have a busy summer. He will participate in the International Relations Pattern Institute in New York City, June 6-12. While in New York he will attend meetings of the United Nations Assembly at Lake Success and will interview several members of the assembly. From New York Mr. Toeppe will go to Detroit to attend the Catholic Action Institute, June 13-18, where he will work in conjunction with John W. Lynch, chairman of the National Press Commission.

Mr. Toeppe is a member of the freshman class and is majoring in geology. He plans to attend the summer session here on the campus. He is 22 years old and served three years in the navy before entering St. Joseph's, last September, to prepare himself for work as a petroleum engineer in the oil fields.

Plans Completed For CC Dance

Plans for the annual spring dance of the Chicago Club of St. Joseph's College are rapidly materializing, and an overflow crowd is anticipated. The dance will be held in Chicago's Knickerbocker hotel, Friday, June 4.

The Knickerbocker, with its spacious glass dancing floor, will be illuminated by roving spotlights, providing a romantic setting and an outlet for pent-up examination worries.

Bids at $4.00 will go on sale in the cafeteria, this week. The dance committee hopes all students who plan to attend the festivities will purchase bids before leaving the campus for the vacation period, but states that bids may be purchased also at the entrance to the ball-room.

The "Overtones," campus quartet, will sing during the intermissions. Bob Ruehle's orchestra, one of the largest and more successful musical groups in the Chicago area, will provide the soft and lilting music for which it is renowned.

If sufficient aspiring young talent can be found, it is hoped that a short amateur program can be arranged, with cash prizes going to the best amateurs. The Club's Chicago representative, Mr. Ed McElroy, the city's youngest sportscaster, is endeavoring to secure top talent from the professional field to make an appearance.

Club officers have suggested that students who do not plan to dance at the Knickerbocker on June 4, but who are willing to assist as ticket sellers and ticket collectors, contact one of the officers.

DMU Elects New Officers For Year

The annual election of officers of the Dwenger Mission Unit was held Sunday, May 23. The balloting resulted in the choice of the following: Ray Gatzka, Flint, Mich., president; Bob Griglak, Cleveland, vice president; Len Wildenhaus, Ft. Jennings, O., secretary; John Bican, Chicago, treasurer; Bob Kunish, Toledo, O., librarian; Joe Lazur, Whiting, Ind., historian; and Norb Adelman, Monroeville, O., program chairman.

The new officers were installed immediately. The Rev. Carl Nieset, Unit moderator, congratulated the newly-elected men, and suggested that the retiring officers, under the presidency of Don Vogl, had set a pace that the new officers and the entire Unit could well emulate.

The National Catholic Student Mission Crusade convention to be held at Notre Dame University, Aug. 26-29, will be attended by the officers of the local Unit.

Members of the Unit were fortunate in hearing an address by the Very Rev. John Wilson, C.P.P.S., Vicar Provincial for Chile, Tuesday evening, May 25. Father Wilson returned to this country after a year in the Chilean missions to attend the consecration of Bishop Geiger in Cincinnati, May 19. His talk featured a description of life and customs in Chile, where eight members of the American Province of the Society of the Precious Blood have been working since last September. An informal question period followed Father Wilson's address.

Truman Leads Poll; Stassen Runner-up

In a presidential preference poll, sponsored by Varsity Magazine on college campuses throughout the country, 250 St. Joseph students cast their ballots over the weekend. Results show President Truman the choice of local men, with Stassen a very close second. Third Party candidate, Henry Wallace, received only one vote. Percentages follow:

Truman	24.8%
Stassen	24.0%
Dewey	11.6%
Eisenhower	9.6%
Vandenberg	9.2%
MacArthur	6.8%
Taft	5.2%
Wallace	0.4%
Other Candidates	8.4%

RAP Finishes '47-48 Polling

Final tabulations after 30 weeks of polling by college students throughout the country show that the Fibber McGee and Molly radio program has been voted the No. 1 comedy show of the year. The couple of Wistful Vista and their supporting cast took first place in the balloting 26 out of the 30 weeks since the Radio Acceptance Poll was inaugurated last fall.

In the 30th and final week of polling the Fibber McGee and Molly show and the Henry Morgan program tied for first place. The latter show placed first twice in the 30 weeks, and Jimmy Durante rated first once, way back in October, when the balloting first began.

Standings for the first five places in the 30 weeks are as follows: Fibber and Molly, 81.0; Henry Morgan, 73.0; Jack Benny, 69.0; Red Skelton, 67.5 and Fred Allen, 66.5.

In and out of last place several times during the 30 weeks, "It Pays to be Ignorant" finally ended up on the bottom, with a rating of 33.5. The Bob Hope show was second last with 37.5.

Molly and Fibber led individual performers during the listening season with ratings of 89.0 and 85.0, respectively. Dennis Day, of the Jack Benny show, was third with 81.0. Receiving lowest ratings for individual performances during the 30 weeks were Vera Vague, with 18.5, and Lulu McConnell, with 23.5.

More than 65,000 votes on individual performers were cast and a total of 16,066 ballots were returned to Poll Headquarters during the past eight months.

Plans are now being formulated for the 1948-49 poll. A larger number of colleges and universities will be invited to participate.

8 Local Residents Wed in Summer

Wedding bells will ring during the summer months when eight residents of Collegeville, including one member of the faculty, will march down the aisle. Mr. Daniel Connor, assistant music professor, will marry Miss Mildred Satola, of Chicago, in St. Augustine's church, Rensselaer, Aug. 14. Others who will become husbands are Jim Beane, Evansville, Ind., junior, Bill Tilka, sophomore from East Chicago, Ind., Norbert Bialek, junior of Chicago, John Grande, Indianapolis sophomore, Dick Briede, Decatur, Ind., sophomore, Ed Bugajski, senior from Chicago, and Greg Longpre, junior of St. Joseph, Mich.

Two of the students will be wed on June 12. John Grande will marry Miss Virginia Ann Connor, of Indianapolis, in Sts. Peter and Paul Cathedral, and Bill Tilka and Miss Dora Ruzzini, of East Chicago, will exchange vows in Immaculate Conception church, East Chicago. On June 20 Miss Eleanor Skibinski will become the wife of Ed Bugajski, in St. Mary Magdalene church, Chicago.

The month of August will find five marriages being solemnized. Besides Mr. Connor's wedding on August 14, Norbert Bialek will marry Miss Jeanette Augustyn in St. Stephen's church, Chicago, and Longpre will wed Miss Carol Launsbre in St. John's church, Benton Harbor, Mich., Aug. 21. On Aug. 25 Miss Cornelia Miller will become Mrs. Jim Beane in St. Boniface's church, Evansville, and on Aug. 28 Dick Briede and Miss Eleanore Jaminski will exchange vows in St. John the Baptist church, Virginia, Minn.

The words "address" and "lecture" are too stiff to describe properly the easy-going, interesting and informative talk given in the College Theatre, last Wednesday evening, by Ernest H. Reed, manager of education and training, International Harvester Co. Mr. Reed appeared as the second speaker on the "American Freedom in Action" series being presented by the Very Rev. Henry A. Lucks, president of the College. Bishop Bennett of Lafayette inaugurated the series on April 7.

Mr. Reed did not merely say that the advent of machinery has lightened the farmer's burden and made the United States the world's cupboard. Instead, he said that in 1800 it took 86 man hours to plant and raise and harvest a bushel of wheat, according to government figures. This has been reduced to less than eight man hours in 1940.

"The real tragedy of American civilization," said Mr. Reed, "lies in the fact that we, who can feed raw steel into one end of a modern factory and have it come out in the finest kinds of automobiles, refrigerators, machinery, etc., still are unable to approach such 'know-how' when it comes to channeling and selecting human beings for certain walks and jobs in life."

The Harvester official praised the contributions of small colleges like St. Joseph's toward the overall study of what makes human beings "tick." He said that industry generally is devoting more and more time to "human relations" in a study to improve the human element.

Industry already knows, he said, that employees place several things above high wages when asked what things they want most in their jobs. Security, good working conditions and a good boss, all rank ahead of wages.

Workers' problems are not left at the gate, when they report for work. Big business is gradually learning that employees carry to work with them their daily fears, hopes and worries, and these govern to a great extent their actions on the job.

Within its own ranks, International Harvester has spent millions annually on the education and training of its workers. Several reasons explain the success of the Harvester program, Mr. Reed said. One has been the fact that dealer-training courses have been planned largely by dealers themselves; foremen's courses have also been organized by the foremen themselves, and not by "company brass" whose grasp of current workers problems is not always complete.

Harvester also maintains a large "after hours school," where employees are able to further their education along any line they wish. Subject range from hat trimming to literature to blueprint reading are provided free to employees. Courses, conducted at 15 different Harvester plants immediately after working hours, benefit approximately 4,000 Harvester employes.

Mr. Reed was introduced to his audience by the Very Rev. Henry A. Lucks, president of St. Joseph's.

"WELL, WELL—THE SHINING KNIGHT IN WHITE ARMOR, THE GAY LOTHARIO FROM THE WEST, THE BEAU BRUMMEL OF PARK AVENUE—COME IN, JERK!"

CLARENCE KUHN TOPS PUMA HITTERS

Racketeers Too Court-eous to Three Enemies

The St. Joseph's tennis team won two matches while dropping three during the past two weeks of court play. The Puma racketeers racked up victories over Evansville, 7-0, and Valparaiso by a score of 5-2. They dropped matches to Louisville 6-1, and Wabash, 4-3, and 5-2.

In the Evansville burial, Joe Hawkins, Tom Brell, Ed Pluth, Benny Danko, and Tom Schweikert won singles matches, while Pluth and Schweikert teamed up to win one doubles match, as Hawkins and Brell were winning the other.

Hawkins, Pluth, Danko, and Schweikert got four of the St. Joe scores in the 5-2 victory over Valpo. Pluth and Hawkins teamed up in the doubles to account for the other Puma point.

Wabash edged the St. Joe courtmen here at Collegeville, 4-3. The Cardinal and Purple squad could win but three singles wins in the defeat. Hawkins, Brell, and Schweikert were point winners.

On the Wabash stomping grounds, St. Joe dropped another tussle, this time by a 5-2 count. Hawkins and Brell accounted for all the St. Joe points, teaming up again to win one doubles set, while Hawkins salvaged a singles set.

Louisville handed our local netsters a good 6-1 spanking down in the Kentuckians lair. It was Hawkins and Brell again who managed to sneak a point away from the southerners.

Father Roof's charges now own a 2-5 record in the six matches they have played thus far. The other Puma losses came at the hands of Indiana State and Valparaiso.

Diamond Squad Wins Third, 7-6

Rags Berger and Don Tesmond teamed up on the mound to pull St. Joseph's baseball team from the doldrums of a six-game losing streak, when the Pumas eked out a 7-6 win from Chicago University on the losers' home field. The victory was St. Joe's third as against nine losses.

Berger lasted four innings and gave up but one of the six Chicago runs. Tesmond took the hill in the fifth inning and received credit for the win, when the Pumas bounced back with three runs in the eighth inning to snare the contest.

Alex Melyon, Jerry Leahy, and Buck Bohny smashed out two hits apiece to pace the revenge win. The Chicago outfit had previously handed the Scharfmans a 6-1 lacing at Collegeville. Singles by Keller Riede, George Bauer, and Alex Melyon, along with two errors, a hit batsman, and a base on balls, was all the Pumas needed to slip past Chicago in the three-run eighth inning.

Valpo Crusaders Flash Weapons As Puma Growl Becomes Purr

St. Joseph's had little time to gloat over their Chicago victory before they were clubbed twice with 2-1 and 6-5 blackjacks by the Valparaiso Crusaders, last Wednesday afternoon, on the Collegeville diamond. The Puma pre-game growl had turned into a mild purr after the double defeat that gave St. Joe a (3-11) season record for 1948. It was the final contest of the year for the baseball squad, and they suffered their seventh and eighth one-run defeats at the hands of a team that had already captured two encounters from the Scharfmans.

Hank Knight was the victim of circumstances in the first game. Hank scattered eight hits effectively, but it was an error in the second inning that permitted the first Valpo run to score. In the eighth inning, it was a passed ball that proved detrimental to the only other Crusader score.

St. Joe jumped on "Satch" Gierke for their only run of the game in the first inning, when Leahy walked; Bohny singled to move him up from where he took home on a double steal. However, Satch seemed to have the game in mighty good control also, allowing only two more hits to St. Joe in the fourth inning. Bohny, Clarence Kuhn, and Dick Chmeleck were able to collect singles off Gierke.

The Pumas jumped on Valpo starter Nuendorf in the second game for two runs in the first inning, but Don Tesmond was also hit pretty well by the Crusaders. After two innings the score was knotted at 3-3.

It looked as if the Pumas were going to pull a last game win from the bag, when they scored two more runs in the fourth inning off Fritz, who had relieved Nuendorf. Alex Melyon's single and Clarence Kuhn's booming double helped St. Joe to forge out front.

However, the Crusaders nipped Tesmond for one more run in the sixth inning when Doering tripled and scored on Gray's ace. This made the scoreboard read 5-4 with St. Joe still out front.

Tesmond again weakened in the eighth inning as Gierke batted for Meadows and tripled. Doering, the man who had tripled his last time at bat, then blasted one of Don's left-handed offerings into the deepest wilds of left for a home run. This gave Valpo all the runs it needed to clinch the win. Louie Vasquez came in in the eighth, and proceeded to get the next six Crusaders out in order.

Kuhn banged out three doubles in five times at bat, and George Bauer collected a double and a single off of Valpo offerings.

St. Joe Golfers Ready for PGA; Two Holes-in-One

The golf oddity of the weekend of May 22-23 took place at the Curtis Creek golf course when holes-in-one were made on successive days by Red Wallace and Father Norman Heckman.

Wallace, a Canton, Ohio sophomore, slipped his No. 9 iron from his golf bag and proceeded to loft a 105-yard shot over the trees in front of the No. 5 hole. The ball rolled neatly into the cup, and the amazed Wallace collected five dollar bets from his equally amazed cronies. It seems that Charlie Gerst, Dick Ward, Tony Lambo, and Tom McNeerney, along with Wallace, had made a pact to pay five dollars to any one of them who would sport such high class link prowess as to shoot a hole-in-one. At any rate, Red is twenty bucks to the good.

Father Heckman, chemistry professor at St. Joseph's, not to be outdone by a student golfer, zoomed out to the local grunt and groan battlefield with Fathers Marcellus and Boniface Dreiling, and Ralph O'Reilly, a merchant of Rensselaer. Father Heckman picked on the No. 7 hole to grab his ace. His trusty 5-iron carried the ball 135 yards and plunked it into the cup. It is not known whether Father Heckman was as fortunate as Wallace in collecting bets.

Burgundy Boosters Win 16-inch Title; Seventh Win in Row

A twelve-run first inning enabled the Burgundy Boosters to whip Mac's Noise Boys 13-7 on May 26 and capture the Chicago Club 16-inch Softball League title. The winners had previously defeated the Noise Boys 5-4. Dan McCarthy's champs closed the season with a 7-0 mark, while the runners-up had five wins in seven starts. By defeating the Dirty Sox 7-6 in a playoff game, John Haggerty's Rosylanders finished third with four wins and four losses.

The Burgundy Boys never gave their opponents a chance as they jumped all over Skip Brennan for 12 runs in the first inning. The Noise Boys fought back, but couldn't overcome the victors' huge lead. Winning pitcher Dan McCarthy was supported by some heavy clouting by Bill James, Bill Murray, and John Fedorik.

Bohney Second; Squad Averages Show Weakness

Clarence Kuhn, left-handed batting first baseman for St. Joseph's baseball team, led his team in hitting for the 1948 short season of 14 games. Kuhn slapped out 18 hits in 59 times at bat for a .306 average.

Kuhn edged out his home town "buddy," Buck Bohny (both hail from Schererville, Ind.) by just six points. Bohny batted one more time but got 18 hits also for a .300 average.

Red Delahanty led the team in average with a .333 mark. Red batted only six times but came through for bingles on two occasions.

Alex Melyon staked his claim for a respectable batting average by smashing out 16 hits in 57 times at the plate for a .281 mark. Alex had been a .300 hitter for the better part of the season, but fell into a slump on the recent southern trip.

One doesn't have to look too far to find one of the reasons why the Pumas didn't win more than three of 14 contests. Hopeful Pumas stepped into the batter's box 489 times and managed to get only 99 hits for a meagre .202 team average.

George Bauer, converted into a second baseman the latter part of the season, was the only hurler to come up with a winning percentage for his efforts on the mound. Bauer happened to be toeing the rubber when the hitters amassed 16 runs to defeat Indiana State by a 16-7 margin.

Rags Berger managed to win one of the other two victories, when he defeated Wabash, 13-12, at Crawfordsville, Ind. Berger had a comfortable 9-1 lead when he was forced to leave the ball game in the sixth inning.

Don Tesmond, the only left-handed hurler on the staff, had quite a few tough breaks before hitting the win column against Chicago University. The Pumas came back with two runs in the late stages of the ballgame to pull it out of the fire for Don.

Hank Knight was charged with four losses but had quite a few tough breaks in trying to break onto the victory list. Knight was the victim of a 2-1 defeat at the hands of Valparaiso. Although he pitched eight-hit ball in this game, his mates couldn't help at the plate or in the field.

Louie Vasquez did some good relief work, although he was tagged with a loss.

St. Joe Takes it on Chin During Southern Road Trip; Leahy, Quinn, Clout Homers

Dick Scharf and his St. Joe baseball team found no salve for their sore wounds on last week's southern road trip. The Pumas were handed their fourth, fifth, and sixth consecutive losses by Evansville, Louisville, and Indiana State. They suffered their fifth and sixth one-run losses at the hands of Evansville and Louisville. Evansville nicked the Collegeville boys, 1-0, while Louisville edged past the Pumas, 9-8. Indiana State gave the Scharfmen a 14-2 shellacking in the third game.

Rags Berger pitched a beautiful five-hit game against Evansville in the first game of the road trip, but received little help from his batting mates who could collect only four hits themselves. Evansville's lone tally came in the third inning, when Haeffle singled and rode home on Schmidt's double.

St. Joe threatened to score in both the third and sixth innings but could not push a counter across the pay-off station. In the third Berger and Melyon clouted successive singles, but Dick Chmeleck lifted a long fly ball to right field to end the frame.

In the sixth, Melyon again singled. Buck Bohny laced out a hit but was cut down as he tried to reach second base on the single.

The Louisville game was another heart-breaker. The Pumas had wiped a 7-2 deficit to take an 8-7 lead going into the last half of the eighth inning. However, Hank Knight, who was on the mound at the time, was tagged for four hits and was the victim of an error as Louisville was pushing across the tying and winning runs. Jerry Leahy, Tom Quinn, and Clarence Kuhn were the Puma stickers in this contest. Leahy clubbed out a homer and a triple, Quinn homered, and Kuhn singled three times in five trips to the platter.

Indiana State gained revenge in the third game for the 16-7 defeat pinned on them here at Collegeville. The Sycamores jumped on St. Joe hurling for 14 runs and 17 hits in the slaughter. Bohny and Knight were the only two Pumas to come up with base hits. Both were singles. Vasquez relieved Knight in the eighth inning but Heine was charged with the loss. The Pumas took advantage of four Sycamore errors to push runs across the plate in the second and third innings.

Greeks Snatch Intramural Title

Dan McDevitt and Bob Ryan hooked up in the intramural championship softball duel last Saturday afternoon, and when the smoke cleared McDevitt's Greeks were the 1948 12-inch softball champs by a score of 7-5.

McDevitt, possessor of a very effective rise ball, had himself in hot water until the very last man. With the bases loaded and the score standing at 7-5, Las Caballas first baseman Jack Smith was at bat. McDevitt worked the count to three balls and two strikes, and then got "Smitty" on a fly ball into left field.

The short two-week battle for the crown was featured by a four-team race. The Greeks, Las Caballas, Club 112, and The Fort were tied with 3-1 records after four games were played. Las Caballas had trimmed the Greeks, Club 112 had beaten Las Caballas, and Las Caballas had edged past The Fort.

It was the Greeks with McDevitt and Beeching pitching who knocked Club 112 and The Fort out of the running. McDevitt outdueled Bill Krodol of Club 112, and Beeching trimmed Harry Martinbianco and The Fort.

Maurie Clifford, Charlie Ball, Gabby Freeman, Joe Moore, and Bill Tilka are congratulated for their gallant attempt in the portrayal of "how softball should be played."

The Moron Nine, Toddering Doubtfuls, Tepcats, and the Buckeyes finished in the second division of the circuit.

McNerney, Dick Ward Lead Puma Linksters

The St. Joseph's golf team, under the tutelage of Father Marcellus Dreiling, notched an overwhelming victory over Indiana State last week by a score of 15-6. Indiana State had previously copped third place in the Indiana golf tournament, but was felled when it met the Pumas on the Curtis Creek golf links.

Sportscaster Airs Baseball's Smokiest Game

This is your ace sportscaster, Pall Mall, bringing you the opening game of the Tobacco League between the Domino Kings and the Chelsea All-Stars from Chester Field. Herbert Tareyton is on the mound for the Domino Kings, and Philip Morris will be the first hitter to step into the batter's box. Here comes the first pitch of the ball game, and it's a Lucky Strike on the outside corner of the plate. Here comes coach Roger Regent out to dispute the call. He's really burning up, in fact, I believe he is making a big ash of himself. It's Raleigh a swell day here, with plenty of Sunshine beaming down. Well, we're ready to go again. Here is the next pitch; he swings and it's way back, going, going, going, gone for a Home Run. Look at that boy run around those base-paths. You'd think he had Wings on his feet. He's a real Marvel. At any rate, you can't deny that he swings a mean Fleetwood. He looks a little fagged after that hit, and walks to the dugout for a drink of water. He's puffing very hard, and drinking like a Camel. I hear his contract calls for Twenty Grand this year. The Chelsea team is fighting for the pennant, and should they win, there will be plenty of Old Gold for everyone. As I look at the scoreboard today, there is a lot of English Ovals posted. The fans light up with Admiration as Mike Marlboro steps up to the plate. He's a Kool customer and a match for any pitcher in the league. This boy, Sam Spud, Domino King outfielder, is one of the best rookies in the league. We have been told to watch his smoke. Marlboro lays down a drag bunt and beats it out for a hit. I would venture to say that the infield out there now is packed with power. Of course, you can draw your own conclusions.

Folks! Have you tried Cough! Cough! cigarettes? They are the only cigarettes that contain tobacco. Says coach Roger Regent, "I've been smoking Cough! Cough! cigarettes for nigh onto 40 years, and I want to say that I'm getting darned sick and tired of 'em."

Before meeting Indiana State, the St. Joe fairwaymen had traveled to Dubuque, Iowa to participate in the First Annual Midlands Conference golf meet. Loras College was the host school. The Cardinal and Purple finished in third place ahead of St. Norbert's with Loras winning the meet, and St. Ambrose finishing in second place.

Tom McNerney paved the way for St. Joe's upset win over the Sycamores when he posted a 75 for 18 holes. This round of play gave "Mac" three points, and then he teamed up with Dick Ward to win another three points.

Ward finished the 18-hole round just three strokes behind McNerney with a 78. Dick pilfered two and one-half points from his Indiana State opponent.

Bill Cason ran into a little more difficulty than did McNerney and Ward, but he was good enough to shoot an 80 for three points.

Charlie Gerst hit an 84 and grabbed two points from his opponent, while Tony Lambo was shooting an 83. However, Tony's opponent was clipping off a better mark and Lambo failed to register a point.

Gerst and Lambo teamed up in the other doubles to grab one and one-half points away from the State men.

At the Midlands meet, it was Dick Ward who set the pace with his 78 on a strange course. McNerney finished with an 87, Gerst and Lambo hung up 89's and Bill Cason chalked up a 90.
